

VortexHealing® Divine Energy Healing

VortexHealing is a holistic system of energetic healing from the Merlin lineage that works solely with Divine light and consciousness. It derives its name from a particular energy-Vortex that is the interface between our physical world and a Divine presence that is intent on healing and transformation. The connection to this Divine presence is one of the factors that makes VortexHealing unique, for a practitioner can channel not just a very powerful healing energy—the Divine energy and light of the Vortex—but also the consciousness of this Divine presence. This enables VortexHealing to work very deeply on the physical and emotional level as well as to release the karmic level of issues—they are transformed directly by the Divine consciousness accessed through the Vortex.

The focus of VortexHealing is not about relaxing the physical or energy bodies, or even making people feel better. Although it does these things, its true focus is deep transformation. And the power of VortexHealing to create transformation is easily demonstrated by using it on a musical instrument for just one minute. The sound of the instrument improves remarkably, even to untrained ears. This has been remarked upon in all articles on VortexHealing. It is easy to extrapolate from that to what VortexHealing is capable of doing to a human consciousness, body, and energy system.

VortexHealing® can also be used for facilitating earth-shifts and accessing the immense amount of Divine assistance that has become available for our present human acceleration. This is the broader aspect of VortexHealing. In advanced Vortex work, practitioners learn techniques that enable them to open Vortex spaces over towns and cities, and they learn to open Divine Funnels and Divine Doors in places, to bridge more Divinity into the planet and into humanity's consciousness. We also gather in groups to create larger-scale planetary healings.

The Divine power behind all of this is an “avatar”, a direct incarnation of the Divine that refers to itself as Merlin. Sometimes avatars are called ‘Divine beings’. Merlin incarnated as a human being some 5600 years ago, in India, known then as Mehindra. He is the source of the Merlin lineage and the transformational power within VortexHealing®. The Merlin associated with King Arthur was not this Divine Expression but one of the human teachers of the lineage.

VortexHealing cannot simply be taught; it must be given by direct consciousness transmission. The “Vortex Wheel,” which comes into manifestation in the Heart, is the focal point for the Foundational Training transmission. This is the link to the Vortex and Merlin's Divine healing power. In the process of receiving this transmission, the student's entire energy system is put through an intense "light acceleration" that restructures it to both hold and handle more light. This light-acceleration is permanent. (Only certified VortexHealing teachers are able to create the transmissions necessary to practice VortexHealing.)

The other aspect of VortexHealing® is its focus on spiritual awakening. As VortexHealing® classes are taken, the Divine source of the lineage works in the background to 'ripen' the student towards awakening. This ripening happens on both an energetic and consciousness level. Through this process, a point is reached where awakening can actually be facilitated on a class level. This is possible only because of the incredible transformational power that the Divine expresses through this lineage.
